Michelle Feldman is a partner at Lamb & Barnosky, LLP in Melville. Feldman concentrates her practice in all aspects of civil litigation, at both the trial and appellate level, with an emphasis on title defense, commercial landlord-tenant, and real estate matters.

Lamb & Barnosky has been, and will continue to be sensitive to the unique needs of women in the workplace, Feldman said.

"We recognize that women in the work force face daily challenges in achieving balance between their family responsibilities and the demands of their careers," she said. "In order to support our valued female employees' ability to pursue and foster their personal career paths, and to attract talented new employees, we encourage a family-friendly environment and, whenever possible, we are flexible in work schedules and work arrangements for all of our employees."

Feldman earned a bachelor's degree, magna cum laude, from Queens College, a master's degree from New York University and a juris doctor from Hofstra University School of Law. She is a member of the Suffolk County and New York State Bar Associations. Her article "Historic Preservation in N.Y.C." was published in the International Property Investment Journal.

Lamb & Barnosky is a full-service law firm representing a wide variety of corporate, municipal and individual clients. Since the firm was founded in 1981, the firm has an AV rating from Martindale-Hubbell, the nationally recognized legal directory, for the highest standard of legal ability and professional standards of conduct and ethics. It has also been named to the National Register of Preeminent Lawyers.
